KALS Glacier trip

Adventure on ice (2 days)

Indulge in the majestic world of glaciers. For two days, rangers and mountain guides accompany you through the breathtaking, high-alpine landscapes of the National Park. On an exciting ascent to the Stüdlhütte hut, accompanied by the National Park ranger, hikers are surprised by the unexpected whistle of a marmot and chamois scurrying across multi-coloured alpine pastures, when the ranger quickly takes out the binoculars for a close-up introduction of the alpine dwellers.

After spending the night at the Stüdlhütte hut, you climb the glacier on crampons, with the mountain guide leading the way between ice towers and crevasses. Courageous hikers can be abseiled into the deep clefts. Due to the different vegetation and climate zones traversed on this hike, this trekking tour is comparable to a 4,000 km journey into the Arctic.
